

CO 435 : Editing

Techniques of journalistic editing for print and digital media are presented, including industry standards and practices. This course also builds skills for use in the converged media environment, for publication in multiple formats. Students must master line editing for accurate copy, and conduct news analysis over a range of contemporary ethical, legal, social, political and religious issues. Writing proficiency is required in this W-designated course.

Credits 3

Code

W

Prerequisites EN 112, CO 231 with minimum grade of C and passing score on Communication Department Entrance Exam for Communication majors.